2006 CSRMA Loss Control Program of the Year Award Winners!

The CSRMA Executive Board is proud to announce the results of the 2007 CSRMA Loss Control Program of the Year Award! All applications submitted described workers' compensation and general liability loss control efforts that were both innovative and aggressive.

- Each winning agency will receive a large engraved plaque and lobby banner proudly proclaiming their Agency to have the CSRMA Loss Control Program of the Year.
- Each Agency employee will receive a jacket embroidered with the CSRMA logo and words "CSRMA Loss Control Program of the Year Award Winner 2007" and a roadside survival kit.

The Winners this Year Include:

Agency Name: Fairfield-Suisun Sewer District

Operations Performed: Wastewater treatment and disposal
General Manager: Kathy Hopkins

Number of Employees: 24
Safety Officer: Rich Sponholtz

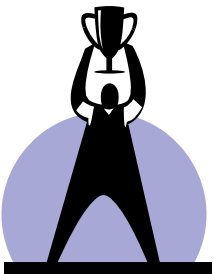

FSSD is responsible for overseeing a contract plant operator and running a District – they are no stranger to unique risks and challenges. FSSD's loss control program has undergone a complete overhaul in the past few year – no easy task! In addition to updating and improving their existing core programs, FSSD has looked well beyond compliance and has taken a comprehensive approach to loss control by integrating District and Contractor loss control programs into a seamless and well-managed program.

Agency Name: Leucadia Wastewater District

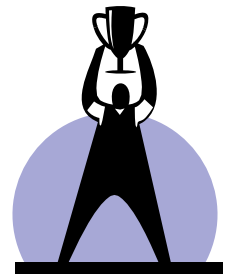

Operations Performed: Wastewater collections
General Manager: Paul Bushie

Number of Employees: 18
Safety Officer: Leo Schempp

Despite being a small agency with fewer resources than larger organizations, LWD has been a leader in adopting and customizing programs and practices CSRMA has developed to help control risk. Additionally, LWD has developed several unique and innovative programs over the years that have been shared with other CSRMA members as models. The result is a loss control program more comprehensive and sophisticated than those of organizations many times their size.

On Behalf of the CSRMA Executive Board,
CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL!
